

Partnering to Close the Justice Gap

The Access to Justice Commission salutes the firms that have already joined the 2012 Raising the Bar in D.C. Campaign. The Campaign honors firms that donate a percentage of their D.C. office revenues to local legal services providers. These funds are urgently needed to protect the strained legal services network and the vulnerable clients they serve. As lawyers, we share a unique obligation to ensure access to justice for all in our community. District firms share a long tradition of helping those most in need. Such leadership and generosity are needed now more than ever. Please join the Campaign.
